ELABORATE PLAYS TO BE GIVEN BY DRAMA SECTION

Entertainment To Be Given at Palace Grand Theater on
Evening of April 21

FOR CLUBHOUSE FUND

Many Prominent Citizens of Glendale To Be Patrons
and Patronesses

To be a patron or patroness of the elaborate evening of plays which the drama section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club will present at the Palace Grand on the evening of April 21, is considered an honor. It is by no means an empty honor; Mrs. Mabel Franklin Ocker has seen to that, and has reaped a harvest for the new clubhouse by persuading her friends that to be a patron of this very fine program is an honor worth paying for—and for the matter of that, she's right; any honor that is not an empty one is always paid for one way or another.

That Mrs. Ocker's viewpoint in the matter is appreciated is evidenced by the fact that she has secured (on her own terms) as patrons for the drama section's fine program next Thursday evening, the following prominent Glendale people: Messrs. and Mmes. A. M. Beamon, John Hyde Braly, Daniel Campbell, Albert Stillman Chase, C. C. Cooper, J. A. Crawford, John Everson, W. E. Evans, Charles B. Guthrie, H. R. Harrower, John G. Huntley, C. E. Hutchinson, Mattison B. Jones, J. L. Joseph, E. W. Kinney, Ralph W. Meeker, Alexander Mitchell, Eugene Murman, Herman Nelson, J. A. Newton, Frank H. Olmstead, Albert D. Pearce, Spencer Robinson, Nathan Rigdon, Cameron D. Thom, J. C. Woods, T. C. Young; Mmes. Mabel F. Ocker, Ella W. Richardson, Mabel L. Tight; Misses Florence A. Harsh and Ellen D. Williams.

SOLDIERS FACING GRAVE CHARGES

(By International News Service)
TACOMA, Wash., April 14.—Everett Impyn and Laurence Bogart, soldiers at Camp Lewis, must face a federal grand jury June 11 on a charge of criminally attacking Miss Eleanor Shayer, a civilian nurse.

If convicted on this charge the soldiers would be hung, according to John M. Boyle, United States district attorney here, who is handling the prosecution.

Miss Shayer was walking with John Clifford Tuesday night when they were attacked and bound by the two soldiers. Clifford was tied to a tree and the girl was carried into the woods nearby. She is now in a critical condition at a Camp Lewis hospital. Bogart and Impyn deny knowledge of the crime.

PASSAGE OF THE KNOX RESOLUTION

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Passage of the long-heralded Knox resolution ending the state of war which has existed between the United States and the former central powers, today awaits word from the White House. Republican leaders of the senate and house predicted today the peace resolution can be jammed through both houses within an hour after the White House gives the word.

The actual date of passage appeared uncertain today. At first, it was not intended that congress should act on it until after May 1, the date set by France for German compliance with her reparations demands.

SIR ARTHUR VICARS WAS KILLED TODAY

(By International News Service)
DUBLIN, April 14.—Sir Arthur Vicars, a former king-at-arms to the province of Ulster, was killed today by Sinn Feiners, who also burned the mansion at Listowell.

COLLEEN FINDS WAY

Colleen is a beautiful collie with wise, affectionate eyes that gaze with delight at her master, Arch Eugene Saylor of 705 North Louise street. She is a troubled, lonely dog when absent from the family, as proven by her ten days' trip over 50 miles of rough mountain road from the high Sierras to their former home in Oakdale. When the Sayers came to Glendale they were forced to leave Colleen with a neighbor in Oakdale who took her on an auto trip to a camp in the Sierras. Colleen had made the trip several times before with the Sayers and fully expected to find them when she arrived. It was a disappointed dog that roamed disconsolately around for several days looking for her master. One day she disappeared and for ten days was mourned as lost or stolen. Telephone messages in all direction could elicit no trace of her. At the end of that time she put in an appearance at the Saylor's old home at Oakdale. She was gaunt, weary and footsore and how she found the way through the mountain passes is still a mystery. Only the love of a dog is a solution.

Colleen arrived in Glendale, via express, Sunday morning and is once more a delighted happy dog.

REDUCTION IN PRICE OF ALL PRODUCTS

CHICAGO, April 14.—A 10 per cent reduction in the price of all its products in which steel is the principal raw material was announced by the International Harvester Company today, effective immediately. All machinery composed principally of wood and iron was reduced in price from 10 to 15 per cent on March 7, by the company, so that the present reductions mark a decline averaging more than 10 per cent down the line of farm implements.

The reduction, the announcement says, is the result of the lower steel prices recently announced.

"JUST PALS" AT THE GLENDALE THEATER

"Just Pals," starring Buck Jones in the stirring story of a golden-hearted ne'er-do-well, begins a two-day run at the Glendale theater today.

This Fox production is one of the most absorbingly interesting photoplays of the season and has proved to the large audiences that have attended the showings that Buck Jones, who is not only a horseman of rare skill but a skilled actor of cowboy characters, can also portray with marked ability a small town idler who was "born tired," but gets bravely over it when a great emergency calls to action.

Monte Banks in his latest comedy, "His Dizzy Day" and the latest Pathe News complete this program.

The same program is shown tomorrow when, as an added attraction, "Old Buckskin" (Richard E. Homer) will appear on the stage in person with "Headlight," the greatest educated horse that has ever appeared on the stage.

ELECTION JUNE 26 FOR CITY OFFICIALS

In compliance with the provisions of the new city charter of Glendale a special election will be held on June 26 to elect city officials and to decide other civic issues. Those not registered are urged to do so, in order that they may have the privilege of voting. Voters may be registered at the chamber of commerce headquarters, or, if more convenient, with Mrs. May Myton at 104 South Glendale avenue.

NO ACTION YET IN DEBS' PARDON APPEAL

(By International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 14.—It will be at least another month before any action is taken on the appeal for a pardon for Eugene V. Debs, Socialist leader now in the Atlanta penitentiary, Attorney General Daugherty stated today. The attorney general said that the matter is proceeding very slowly and that a careful investigation is being made of all the cases.

EXAMINING BOARD FOR OSTEOPATHS

Present Requirements Such as to Discourage Practice of the Profession

Citizens of Glendale have been solicited by resident osteopaths to address letters to Senator Carr, representing this district in the California senate, relative to the bill now before the legislature asking for a separate examining board for osteopaths.

In an effort to ascertain the reason for this request and why osteopathic practitioners are dissatisfied with the present requirement compelling all practitioners to take the regular state medical board examinations before being licensed to practice, Dr. J. E. Eckles of this city was interviewed. He said:

"The situation with regard to our form of practice is somewhat different from the American medical profession which is striving to decrease the number of physicians and increase the quality of those who are graduated and allowed to practice.

"The osteopathic profession, being much less numerous, is interested in increasing its numbers and for that reason does not want the medical requirements made so high that the profession becomes one for the idle rich only.

"In this and many other states a young chap wishing to study medicine must have high school credits, must have two years' preparatory work and in some states, a college degree before he can enter a medical college. He then takes four years of medical training and in some states it must be followed by experience as an intern before he is admitted to practice.

It means six or eight years of intensive study. The question is whether one should be required to have a thorough knowledge of Greek, French, philosophy, etc., before being allowed to enter a medical school. The American Medical Association says it broadens the mind and makes physicians more intelligent. The osteopaths say such intensive and expensive qualifications are unnecessary and tend to discourage a young person in moderate circumstances from taking up this line of work. This bill aims to give osteopaths some of the rights of which they have been deprived by the state board of medical examiners."

COMMANDER FITTS TO BE HONOR GUEST

Glendale American Legion members and the Women's Auxiliary will meet together tomorrow evening at Legion headquarters on East Broadway for a social good time.

State Commander Byron Fitts of Los Angeles will be the honor guest of the occasion. A short program of music and interpretive dances has been planned and there will be other entertainment features.

H. C. L. CAUSES NO SLUMP IN MARRIAGES

(By International News Service)
CHICAGO, April 14.—Christmas is the most popular season for popping the question and the period between Easter and July the most fashionable for weddings. This is the conclusion of jewelers based on statistics relating to the sale of engagement and wedding rings.

The reason seems as clear as that of any problem involving the psychology of the well-known human race. Christmas, for instance, is a time for sentiment and cold weather, which prompt to tenderness and the instinct for snuggling. The spring, on the other hand, is the time for mating and home-build, bedecked by nature with flowers and greenery as if for nuptials.

Jewelers who keep statistics on romance say by far the largest number of engagement rings are sold around Christmas and by far the largest number of wedding rings in April, May and June. Manufacturing jewelers declare their output of rings of both kinds is as heavy this year as in the two years following the end of the war, when marriages broke the numerical record.

An average of 5,690,182,000 shingles are manufactured in the United States every year.

"TRIANGLE LOVE NEST" IN JERSEY

Man Lived in Same Home
With Two Wives, Two Children and Mother

By S. D. WEYER
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

JERSEY CITY, N. J., April 14.—All was not so quiet and peaceful today at the Andrews "triangle love nest" in Jersey City as it has been for the last three months. A storm was shaking its foundations, but compared to the tornado that it heralds, it was but a warming breeze.

For wife No. 1 has rebelled at last; the "woman scorned" means to have her day.

They clashed today in a preliminary skirmish, did wife No. 1 and wife No. 2, both of whom bear the name of H. T. Andrews, a New York stockbroker, and both of whom have been since January living with him in his six-room flat on the Hudson boulevard.

"You wrote me yourself to come here," said beautiful 25-year-old No. 2, Mrs. Esther Marie Tatnall Andrews, formerly of Pittsburgh, married to H. T. Andrews last January at Greenwich, Connecticut.

"Yes, but I didn't ask you to come wife," was the retort of wife No. 1. She is Mrs. Maud Augusta Haynes Andrews, 42, member of a well-known New England family. She married the broker, who is 12 years her junior, on June 17, 1912, in Portland, Maine. She has borne him two children, John, 8, and Harley, 6.

The latter is crippled. Besides the two wives and the two children, there lives in the six-room flat, the broker's mother, Mrs. Sarah McGuire Andrews, formerly of St. Johns, New Brunswick.

One of the rooms is an alcove bedroom. It is there that "No. 1" has spent most of her time since Andrews walked in one night with "No. 2," pretty and petite, who used to be a stenographer and telephone operator. In that little room, nursing her crippled boy, she has silently suffered for three months, battling with heroic valor against the green monster.

But last night, while Andrews, the smiling 30-year-old broker, who maintains sumptuous offices at No. 30 Broad street, with branches in several big cities, was spending a gay evening with the younger wife, "somewhere in New York," all the painfully suppressed wrath rose tumultuously to the surface. She had to tell somebody, anybody. She did. And like wildfire the news was flashed to New York and newspaper row. The Stillman scandal, the Stokes divorce, the

SHALL UNIFORMS BE WORN BY CHILDREN?

Mothers of Glendale Union High School will be called into council at a meeting to be held next Wednesday when a final vote will be taken on the subject of school uniforms. A year ago the school voted not to adopt uniforms.

At a girls' assembly held recently to discuss the question of school attire, the weight of opinion seemed to be in favor of the Long Beach high school plan, which frowns upon immodest, unsuitable raiment for school wear and encourages simplicity and good taste. The Pasadena high school plan of uniform school dress was championed by two representatives of the Crown City high, Misses Strauss and Robbins, at this meeting, but the Glendale girls did not seem to favor this form of dress.

BONUS HUSBAND LOSES HIS JOB

(By International News Service)
CHICAGO, April 14.—Norvell H. Cobb, so Helen J. Cobb declares, felt that he was worth $3400 per year as a husband.

"He demanded $200 a month and a bonus of $1000 every year for the privilege of living with him," Mrs. Cobb, who makes $12,000 annually as a buyer for a Chicago department store, said.

Mrs. Cobb did not feel that Norvell was worth that much to her and a judge agreed with her. Norvell lost his job as husband via the divorce route.

Lincoln was the first President to wear a full beard, and Grant the first to wear a moustache and beard.

STRICTLY MODERN

Inside information secured from C. A. Neale of Neale & Gregg relative to the building they are to erect about a block north of their present location on Brand reveals that while their plans have not yet been committed to paper, they have a very definite idea of the character and uses of the structure. Mr. Neale says:

"It will be an eight-story building with a marble front, electric lifts, valets in attendance to make things pleasant and comfortable for all patrons. The elevators will be the best of their kind and strong enough to carry such men as John Usilton. A roof garden in which Hawaiian singers and high-class vaudeville artists will give continuous performances will be one of the attractions, with a landing station for airplanes and wireless connections with the roof gardens of Paris and New York."

HARDING'S SMILE RIVALS TEDDY'S

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 14.—The Harding "How are you?" bids fair to outrival even the famous Rooseveltian "Dee-lighted," both in point of service and heartiness of utterance.

During the first weeks of the new administration it has been conservatively estimated at the White House executive offices that more than 6000 people have grasped the hand of President Harding in response to this greeting. This estimate applies only to numbers received by the president during the half-hour that he devotes daily three times a week to a public "reception," and takes no account of the hundreds that have seen Mr. Harding by scheduled appointment.

The public receptions are arranged for 12:30 p.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. President Harding, however, has not learned the knack of keeping his engagements up to their schedule and rarely does the line start moving toward his office until 1:30. The people begin to arrive at the executive offices about 11 o'clock, and it is not an unusual sight to see a line of well-wishers massed from the doors of the offices nearly out to Pennsylvania avenue, waiting patiently for hours to grasp the hand of the new executive.

Secret Service on Job

Once the line gets started it is handled with "neatness and dispatch." Mr. Harding stands near the center of his circular and handsomely appointed office and the crowds are kept closed up, and moving by the secret service men and Patrick E. McKenna, the efficient veteran doorkeeper. Once in a while the progress of the crowd is halted by the president himself as he recognizes a personal friend or stops to pick up a child. After shaking the president's hand, each person passes on and through another door and out of the building.

The people are loud in their praise of the phrase of the Harding return to "normalcy." Such ejaculations as these are often heard as the crowds file into the White House grounds after one of these receptions:

"Wasn't it wonderful?"

"He looks like a real president."

"It was certainly worth waiting for."

"Isn't he a handsome man?"—this, of course, from the feminine contingent.

Imposed on by Some

Old timers at the White House say Mr. Harding allows people to impose upon him because of his unflinching courtesy and readiness to respond. They say many engagements are made for the president with people who say they only wish to pay their respects. The president after receiving such callers invariably asks them to be seated. White House etiquette requires that the caller excuse himself on the plea that he should not be taking up the president's time, but it has been so long since a president has given himself so completely to the people that this rule has evidently been forgotten and consequently Mr. Harding daily gives up more time to people than he has planned and has to do considerable night work to keep up to his schedule.

MURDER SUSPECTS ARE UNDER ARREST

SEATTLE, Wash., April 14.—Although they say they have an alibi, W. T. Mahoney and A. Thorsen are under arrest here today suspected of having murdered W. F. Saulsbury, shipping man, in Vancouver, Monday night. The men were arrested as they stepped from a Vancouver steamship.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Prof. R. D. White Explains
Provisions of City Charter for Election of Board

A meeting of the executive board of the Federation of Parent-Teacher Associations, brought together all the presidents of such organizations in the city except one, at the intermediate school Wednesday afternoon.

The first speaker, Mrs. Harry Greenwalt, addressed the meeting on legislation affecting schools, particularly national legislation. She also mentioned the movement for a department of education, the head of which shall be a member of the president's cabinet.

New Board of Education

Superintendent R. D. White, who was the next speaker, called attention to the provisions of the city charter with regard to a board of education consisting of five members. He explained that under this change of government the present board of trustees will automatically go out of office and their duties will be passed on to a board of education to be elected the last Tuesday in June, of the present year, the three candidates receiving the highest number of votes to serve for four years, the remaining candidates for two years. It will be the duty of the board to elect a city superintendent instead of a district superintendent, and it will have the right to prescribe the course of study. This right, he said, will constitute the only big difference between the present conditions and those, which will obtain under the new charter. Under the charter we can modify it so long as we keep within the state provisions.

He reminded the ladies present that it will be necessary for them to give some thought to the candidates they desire to have represent them on this important board. "It seems to me exceedingly important," he said, "that on our first board we shall have men and women who understand the problems of our schools and who are willing to give the time and interest required."

COAL MINERS' INGENIOUS PLAN

LONDON, April 14.—The striking coal miners have hit upon an ingenious plan to turn one of the chief weapons of the government into an instrument for their own defense. They are enlisting by the thousands in the citizens' emergency forces called for emergency duty. Thus they not only get themselves into a strategic position to influence the minds of those who side in the strike with them may be called on to combat the strike, but they draw government pay and rations which exceed all strike benefits. The railmen and transport workers are expected to follow the same tactics.

SEATTLE CONTINUES TO BE TERMINUS

(By International News Service)
SEATTLE, Wash., April 14.—Seattle will continue to be the terminus of the Yellowstone trail, according to H. O. Cooley of Minneapolis, general manager of the Yellowstone Trail Association, who is here today. He denied rumors that the terminus is to be changed to Portland.

DAMAGED

ALMOST ON EDGE OF REVOLUTION

(By International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 14.—The final report of Major-General Crowder on conditions in Cuba has been received at the state department, it was learned today.

Crowder was sent on a special mission to Cuba by former President Wilson in January, under instructions to investigate thoroughly into the political and economic situation, which has brought the island republic almost to the edge of revolution.

While no announcement concerning the report was made by the state department, it is understood that the report of General Crowder inclined favorably toward the Zayas faction in that it sets forth that elections have been held in due process of the Crowder election law.

HEALTH CONDITIONS GOOD IN GLENDALE

Dr. E. J. Eckles, health officer, states that the city will soon issue a bulletin to be distributed among citizens generally, taking up the water question from a bacterial standpoint and giving the results of tests that have been made, that users of water may judge for themselves.

Relative to disease conditions, the doctor reports that measles are quieting down and that at the present time there are comparatively few cases of infectious diseases of any sort. Compared with other cities, we have had very few cases of scarlet fever and diphtheria, he says, and no smallpox.

"GLEN AND DALE"

REGISTER NOW

Glen and Dale likes excitement and something interesting doing. Representatives of the district union visited every young people's society in the district last Sunday and put the pre-registration campaign before them.

The plan is to register just as many before time as possible in order to have the money to work with and boost Glendale. The presidents in the Presbyterian church are backing it strong; C. C. Stoker visited the Glendale Congregational, Nancy St. Clair the Baptist and Tropico Presbyterian. Ethel Preston the united meeting of Glendale Methodist Episcopal societies, Carol Duncan the three societies of the Christian church, Lowell Donnell the Eagle Rock Presbyterian, Methodist Episcopal and Congregational, and Mr. De Mott of Burbank the Presbyterian, Christian and Methodist Episcopal societies of his town.

On with the race. Who will win? If you want your young people ahead and they haven't found you, walk up to one and say, "That Christian Endeavor convention will be a fine thing for you and Glendale. Here is my dollar and be sure and send me my badge and program that I may attend as many of the meetings as I can."

Los Angeles county Christian Endeavor officers have given each of the 22 districts of the county a quota of pre-registrations, which they expect them to reach. Glendale with a quota of 500 is in Class A, with Long Beach, Pasadena, Whittier, Pomona and San Gabriel valley. These have quota from 100 to 350 to meet. Of course Glen and Dale are after the $15 first prize. Who would want second place? This money is to apply on sending a Glendale delegate to the Mt. Hermon Summer conference. The society in our district which turns in the largest number of registrations in proportion to its membership will win also a district prize of $10 or second prize of $5 to be used as the society wishes. Who will have 50 per cent or so at A. L. Brand's office, 130 South Brand, Monday, April 18, by 6 o'clock?

RAILWAY HEARINGS ARE POSTPONED

(By International News Service)
CHICAGO, April 14.—All hearings in the controversy of the national working agreements between the railways and their employees, before the United States Railway Labor Board have been postponed until April 25, it was announced today. Postponement was decided upon to give contending parties more time for the preparation of cases for wage reduction hearings, involving 26 railroads, which are scheduled to begin Monday.

DR. MARGARET LEWIS IS HERE FROM INDIA

Mrs. Herbert Bartlett of 347 North Brand boulevard is entertaining a distinguished visitor this week in the person of her cousin, Dr. Margaret Lewis, physician and missionary from India.

Dr. Lewis has been called upon to make a number of addresses in Southern California and is much in request at missionary gatherings. She will probably be here until the close of the month.

CELEBRATES HER ELEVENTH BIRTHDAY

Avis Marie Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Young of 333 Milford street, entertained a few of her very best friends with a prettily appointed 6 o'clock dinner in honor of her 11th birthday, last Tuesday.

Lovely white roses and gay red candles adorned the table, whose centerpiece was a huge, beautifully decorated birthday cake. Dainty place cards marked places for Leone Rockhold, Elizabeth Young, Lorena Hooyer, Olive Bane and the little hostess, Avis Marie Young.

50 PER CENT TAX ON GERMANY'S EXPORTS

(By International News Service)
PARIS, April 14.—After a bitter debate, the chamber of deputies today voted by overwhelming majority in favor of a 50 per cent tax on German exportations. The vote was 383 to 77. The opponents put up a stubborn battle against the tax on the ground that France needs Germany's products and that by such a formidable tax the French people were indirectly paying the German war debt.

BASEBALL GETS A GOOD START

By JACK VELOCK

I. N. S. Sports Editor

NEW YORK, April 14.—Baseball got away to a wonderful start. The opening of the season was all and more than had been expected. Over 155,000 fans attended these same major games, 38,000 of this number paying tribute to the Yankees and Athletics at the Polo Grounds.

In the minor leagues, several of which opened their schedule, attendance figures mounted over the 100,000 mark, so that more than a quarter of a million fans bent their knees to "old King Swat."

Four teams expected to figure strongly in the big league pennant race got off to flying starts.

AMNESTY ASKED FROM PRESIDENT

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Amnesty for political prisoners—persons convicted of violations of the espionage act during the world war—was asked of President Harding on the second anniversary of the imprisonment of Eugene V. Debs, noted labor leader, by a committee which called at the White House as the culmination of a nation-wide effort to obtain the release of these war-time offenders.

The political amnesty committee, which has headquarters in Washington, is composed of delegates from trade unions, the Farmer-Labor and Socialist parties, the American Civil Liberties Union, and other groups.

These delegates have arrived during the past few days from all parts of the country to present amnesty petitions to congress. Following this, representatives of the committee, among them Morris Hillquit, Jackson Ralston, attorney for the American Federation of Labor, and Roger Baldwin of the American Liberties Union, were received by President Harding at the White House.

Remove Vestiges of War

To the President they presented their plea, declaring that "every remaining vestige of war spirit should be done away with and that the release of Eugene V. Debs would be an important factor in this effort."

The representatives of the amnesty committee are said to have pointed out to the President that in European nations "restoration of thought and speech had come about more promptly than in America."

In this connection, they are understood to have called attention to the granting of general amnesty to French political prisoners in March, 1920, and the freeing in Great Britain of a large number of those imprisoned under the defense of the realm act.

Point to Lincoln's Act

"We earnestly hope," the delegates said, "that President Harding will follow the example of President Lincoln. In proclaiming general amnesty for political prisoners at the close of the civil war."

Seymour Stedman, of the Socialist party, acted as the delegate of the committee to present the plea of the amnesty committee to Attorney General Daugherty.

Tonight a mass meeting of the delegates will be held at the Masonic Temple. Addresses will be delivered by John Haynes Holmes, Senator Joseph I. France, James H. Maurer, of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, and Meyer London, Socialist congressman.

Tomorrow, smaller delegations will visit congressmen from their own districts.

Represent Half Million

Organized labor, from small bodies such as a miners' local in Terre Haute, Ind., which has assessed its members 50 cents each in order to pay the expenses of delegates to Washington, to the Chicago Federation of Labor, representing nearly half a million men and women, have endorsed the drive which has for its purpose the freeing of all political prisoners, according to the amnesty committee. Labor delegates are here from Chicago, Milwaukee, Minneapolis and St. Louis, while the Farmer-Labor party is understood to be represented by 200 delegates.

The amnesty petition presented to congress today is said to contain more names than any other petition ever presented in the history of the United States.

Petitioners Prominent

The signers include Booth Tarkington, Zona Gale, Charles P. Steinmetz, David Starr Jordan, Judah L. Magnes, former Governor Cole P. Bleas of South Carolina; Parley P. Christensen, Helen Keller, Norman Hapgood, Mrs. Robert LaFollette, Basil M. Manly and R. F. Downing, president of the American Association for the Recognition of Ireland.

Members of labor organizations, however, constitute the bulk of the signers. Tens of thousands of signatures received by the amnesty committee and others are still arriving. Thousands of names came from the Textile District Council of Philadelphia, with 15,000 textile workers; the International Brotherhood of Blacksmiths, the North Star Lodge of the International Association of Machinists, the Central Labor Union of Evansville, Ind., and many locals of the United Mine Workers and the Amalgamated Clothing Workers.

Believe Harding Favorable

Leaders in the amnesty drive today expressed the belief that President Harding's action in ordering a review of the Debs case, and his willingness to receive representatives of the committee indicates that serious consideration is being given their plea by the administration and that favorable results are to be expected.

WOMAN'S COZY CORNER

By JOSEPHINE FRANCE
FOOD VALUE OF SALMON

Almost everybody eats and enjoys canned salmon. Even the ex-service man who got more than his share of it during the late unpleasantness is beginning to weaken on his "never again" vow with regard to this savory, nutritious and economical food—especially when his wife or mother puts it up in more inviting form than the company cook practiced.

Pink and chum salmon are among the most wholesome and least expensive foods it is possible to procure at the present time. These two varieties, by reason of their great abundance, but not from lack of quality, are the cheapest. Although they differ in color and flavor so that each is especially suited to certain dishes, they are alike in their high food value.

A can of salmon on the emergency shelf is a most convenient form of food as it may be served in a variety of ways.

SALMON SOUFFLE

Remove the skin and bones from a can of salmon; separate into flakes and season with one teaspoon of salt, two teaspoons of lemon juice and pepper or paprika to taste. Cook one-half cupful of bread crumbs with one-half cupful of milk five minutes. Add the salmon, the yoke of three eggs beaten thick and the whites beaten stiff; these are folded in lightly at the last. Turn into a buttered baking dish and set in a pan of hot water to bake. Serve with:

SPANISH SAUCE

Melt three tablespoons of butter, add three tablespoons of flour; stir until well blended, then pour on gradually, stirring constantly, one cup of milk and one-half cup of cream. Bring to the boiling point. Add one-half cup of pimiento puree, one teaspoon salt and a few dashes of cayenne. To prepare the puree, put a can of pimientos through a sieve, after draining them.

SALMON SALAD

One-pound can of salmon, one-half pint celery, one-half pint mayonnaise. Free the salmon from skin, bones, and pick the fish apart. Add the celery (which has first been cut fine) and mayonnaise dressing, tossing lightly. Season to taste. Save a little mayonnaise to pour over the top. Arrange in salad dishes and garnish with curled lettuce and drops of red jelly, or serve on fresh, crisp lettuce leaves.

BAKED SALMON

With a fork break apart one can of salmon. Mix with two heaping cups of hot mashed, seasoned potatoes. Break in one egg and mix all together. Form in little balls and fry brown or make into a loaf and bake in well-greased bread tin for one-half hour, or until nicely browned. Use one-fourth cup of milk in mixing as that will help it to brown.

PINK SALMON SANDWICHES

One cup boiled salad dressing, one and one-half cups minced pink salmon, season to taste. Mix dressing and salmon to a paste. Slice bread very thin and spread with the paste, cut into dainty shapes and garnish with watercress or parsley. These can be made two or three hours before serving by placing closely together and covering with a damp napkin. Very good.

ANTWERP SALMON

Wash well and chop coarsely sufficient red cabbage to make four cups. Cook for five minutes in skillet with two tablespoons shortening. Add one-quarter cup boiling water, tablespoon vinegar, teaspoon salt and one-quarter teaspoon pepper, cover close and simmer until cabbage is tender or for about a quarter of an hour. Turn contents of a pound can of salmon into bowl, pick out any bone or skin, then scald and drain. Mix with the drained cabbage and serve with plain boiled potatoes.

SCALLOPED SALMON

One-pound can of chum or pink salmon, one-half cup of fine dry bread crumbs; one teaspoon butter, one heaping tablespoon flour, one pint of good rich milk, salt, pepper and paprika.

Melt butter in a saucepan and add flour and stir until melted and fixed but not browned. Remove from fire and slowly add milk until smooth. Then return to fire to thicken like cream. Add a little salt, pepper and paprika to suit taste. Remove salmon from the can, remove any bits of bone and skin, and separate flakes with fork. Butter a pudding dish, add a layer of bread crumbs, then a layer of salmon, and cover with the dressing. Lastly, cover top with crumbs and bits of butter and place in the oven about 20 minutes to heat through thoroughly and brown on top. The size of the baking dish will regulate the number of layers of salmon and other ingredients.

CASSEROLE RICE WITH SALMON

Line the bottom and sides of a mold with cold boiled rice one-half inch thick, fill the cavity with creamed pink or chum salmon and cover with rice. Steam 45 minutes, turn out on hot platter, pour either a white sauce or a hollandaise sauce over and around it. Serve hot. If a mold is not used, it can be put into a bowl and brown paper tied over the top.

PINK SALMON ON TOAST

Three large tablespoons butter, melt. Stir in large tablespoon flour and one-half teaspoon dry mustard; one cup milk; stir until a thick gravy, then stir into this one cup flaked salmon; season with salt, pepper and paprika; few drops tobacco sauce, and finally pour into this one-half cup of catsup. Serve on hot toast or toasted crackers.

LADY CLERK FOOLED BY AGE-OLD TRICK

(By International News Service)

GENEVA, N. Y., April 14.—An old game it is, but it worked all right in Geneva.

His manners were Chesterfieldian. His attire corresponded. She was a busy lady clerk, and so busy!

Would she exchange a $20 bill for the 20 one-dollar bills he offered her? It would be easier to enclose in an envelope for mailing.

She complied, but counting the ones there were but 19. Ah, that would be all right. He would return with the missing bill in a minute. She could keep the envelope with the $20 in it until he returned. Taking all the bills he had given the young lady, he hastened out of the store.

Patient waiting failed to bring the Chesterfieldian back. Opening the envelope he had left with her the young lady found a folded sheet of paper. The $20 had disappeared with the young man.

Now she's wondering how it was possible for him to exchange envelopes without detection—and she's mourning the loss of the $20.

BEAUTY CONTEST IN AFRICA

The Africa and Orient Review, a South African newspaper, has started a beauty contest for dusky belles and already 300 entries have been received for the competition. The editor, Mr. Mohamed Ali, thus describes the negress face: "The eyes," he said, "should have the African expression, a soft, appealing look—an intangible dreaminess, never seen in European eyes. The nose should be semi-aquiline, slightly squat at the bridge, and the lips somewhat thicker than those of the average European, a characteristic which I think gives solidity to the expression. The hair should, of course, be curly." Photographs of the competitors will be reproduced each month, and the readers of the journal will be asked to vote for the photograph they consider the most beautiful, the one receiving the greatest number of votes to be given $500. The second prize is $250 and the third a watch bracelet.

PRICES AND PUBLIC DEBT

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace calls attention to a phase of the price question that most people overlook. It is the relation of prices to the payment of debts, and particularly to the payment of our war debt through taxation.

"We incurred a heavy national debt on the inflated prices," he says. "If we could force all prices back to the pre-war level—which we cannot—it would be equivalent to just about doubling that debt. We can pay off our debts much easier if we maintain a price level at which the debts were incurred."

If the dollar were to regain its old purchasing power immediately, we should have to pay off all that in 50-cent dollars. Having only half as many dollars of income and profit on the new basis as on the war-time basis, tax-payers would find their war taxes exactly twice as hard to pay as if they still had the inflated prices, inflated wages and inflated profits.

This is no argument for keeping up prices, but it is consoling. It justifies Secretary Wallace's declaration that talk of bringing prices back to the pre-war normal is not only economically impossible but "morally wrong."

The secretary thinks everybody would be better off if prices stuck about 70 per cent above the old level. Most people will hardly agree with so high a figure, but a majority might reconcile themselves to 50 per cent above the pre-war level, which is probably about where average prices, in their present subsidence, will establish their new level.

RAILROAD TRAINS SAFER THAN STREET

The recent train wreck on one of the eastern lines in which many lives were lost is so unusual in modern railroad history that attention may be directed to the fact that a passenger in a railroad train, according to statistics, is really safer than he would be if he were walking the streets of his home city. The safety measures put in force by the Southern Pacific have reduced accidents to such a small figure that, according to the statisticians, a Southern Pacific passenger could expect to travel 2,620,202,909 miles or 104,808 times around the world in perfect safety. Since June 30, 1909, the Southern Pacific has carried 482,333,538 revenue passengers, and the revenue passenger mileage has been 18,341,420,368 miles. In this time only seven passengers have lost their lives, a percentage which is in striking contrast with every other known means of transportation.

MUZZLING THE PRESS

Under the provisions of an ancient Spanish law, a Manila editor has been given a short prison term for criticizing members of the Philippine Legislature. Such flagrant muzzling of the press should not be countenanced in any territory under American jurisdiction and protection. If this ruling is allowed to stand there will be nothing to prevent the government of the Philippines from becoming as rotten as it was in the days of Spanish rule. A free press has been the greatest safeguard the democratic institutions of the United States have had. Without its influence there would soon be a reversion to autocracy. The attitude of the Filipinos themselves in this case will give evidence for or against their claim to fitness for independence.

Two Methods of Procedure In Finding a Criminal

For 20 years old man Smithers has been selling all kinds of things in London. He drove bargains and grew rich, but he tried to hide his riches and he lived meanly. He was afraid of robbers and of murderers. A house, by reason of its shabbiness and its strong doors and windows, attracted his fancy and he bought it. He secured every entrance with bars. He had the house wired so that nobody could touch a door knob, a window sash or a grating without ringing a bell. If any one cut the wiring, a leaden weight would fall on a cartridge and explode it, sounding an alarm. Old man Smithers lived in the house by himself.

One day he was found murdered. The burglar alarm had been cut and the cartridge was not exploded because a piece of cloth had been placed under the weight. There was not a finger print anywhere, the crime having been done in gloves. The solitary clue was a small dark lantern, a child's toy.

The narrative is told by Joseph Gollomb in the New York Nation. We follow the story closely.

Scotland Yard went to work on the case characteristically. A conference was held of the central office squad, consisting of four chief inspectors, ten detective inspectors, 19 detective sergeants and 14 detective constables. They went at their problem like a team, captained, but working as one. There was no star performer. With only the child's lantern to work on as a clue, the problem became at first mere drudgery. A tedious round of manufacturers and toy shops followed to determine if possible where that lantern was bought. In this search team-work was everything. Individual cleverness nothing. Finally it seemed probable that the lantern was such as a mother in one of several tenement districts in London would buy for a seven-year-old child.

A detective who had a seven-year-old son was assigned to allow his boy to play with the lantern in the streets of the quarter from which it might have come and to see what happened. For a week nothing at all happened. Father and son were asked to repeat their task in the adjoining district. Here the simple device brought no better results and again they were assigned new territory. This happened several times, until it began to look as though nothing at all would come of it. Then one day a little boy of the quarter edged up to the policeman's son, looked sharply at the lantern.

The little boy claimed the lantern as his, identifying it by a piece of flannel petticoat used as a wick. It was from his sister's petticoat. The father of the first little boy joined him, and then they all went to the boy's mother—a widow who kept boarders.

The detective returned the lantern, and found out that the boy missed the lantern at about the same time that two of the mother's boarders had left without paying their board bills. One had told her that he was an electrician, the other a plumber's apprentice, and she remembered seeing tools of their trade, or what she thought were such, in their room.

Followed then another series of weary searches by the men of Scotland Yard, searches among young plumbers and among electricians, in the underworld, in the files of criminal records in Scotland Yard, in more expensive boarding houses and in dance resorts. Nothing short of a big organization imbued with team-work and bulldog perseverance could have accomplished that search. At last two young men were found whom the widow, unknown to them, identified as her former boarders.

The police had as yet nothing more serious against them than unpaid board bills. So they kept them under surveillance. They learned that the young men were fond of target shooting with a revolver at trees in the country. Bullets extracted from the trees proved to be of the same exceptionally large caliber as that found in the murdered miser's brain. Tactfully, patiently, a corps of detectives searched into the past of the two men, each finding out some seemingly unimportant item. But the whole was becoming a net in which one day the two men found themselves inextricably fast on the charge of the murder and robbery of Smithers.

This man hunt is contrasted by Mr. Gollomb with another in Paris. There had been a remarkable series of burglaries in the aristocratic Etoile section. In each case the burglar took art objects of great value, but never of such uniqueness that they could not be disposed of without danger. The police had not a trace. The thief worked with gloves and left no finger prints.

One detective—Dornay—struck out a lonely furrow. Posing as an art collector, he made many acquaintances in the fast set. He became interested in a quiet man who knew where art treasures could be found. Dornay showed more friendliness than the other liked. Apparently hurt, the detective avoided the unsociable man—Laroche by name.

Dornay had as yet only a vague theory of Laroche's connection with the burglar he was hunting. The detective could not even convince his superiors of the plausibility of his clue and secure the number of men needed to follow Laroche.

Watching one night outside Laroche's hotel Dornay saw the man leave in evening dress. Dornay stole up to the man's room, let himself in with a skeleton key, and made a thorough search. The only discoveries that interested him were a much-used pair of gloves and the water caraf and drinking-glass Laroche kept on a little stand to the left of his bed. With a file Dornay rubbed gently at a spot in the thumb of the left-hand glove, until little more than a thin filament of chamois remained, which, however would not be noticeable at a careless glance. Then the detective carefully polished clean the outside of the caraf and the drinking-glass. He took nothing with him when he left. Next morning, when Laroche again left the hotel, Dornay eagerly examined into the room and the drinking-glass. With a camel's hair brush he dusted some graphite powder on it until Laroche's finger-prints showed clearly. Substituting other glassware Dornay carefully brought Laroche's to police headquarters.

Three weeks later still another burglary was reported, bearing all the marks of the elusive burglar. But this time the police found faint impressions of a left thumb—and only that. It was, however, sufficient. Dornay's instinct and little plot had won. As he knew, the moisture of the human finger is sufficient to leave a print even through gloves if the intervening texture is thin. And the finger-prints were identical with those on Laroche's caraf and drinking-glass.

The instinct for organized effort, which has made Scotland Yard the foremost man-hunting establishment in the world is a trait of the Anglo-Saxon race. In contrast was the Paris police treatment of the burglaries. The Frenchman is keenly individual in his detective work. It makes him less patient and therefore less efficient in organization and throws him back upon individual effort. He is much more prone to hunt a criminal by himself than with colleagues. Thus we have the explanation of the marked difference between English detective work and French detective work.

MAURICE MOUVAT IS NOT GALLANT

(By International News Service)
PARIS, April 14.—It wasn't very gallant, but it's what Maurice Mouvat, world famed dancer, said when informed today by the International News Service that he is named as a co-respondent in J. Stanley Joyce's suit for divorce from "Peggy" Hopkins.

"When I pick a girl I'll pick a prettier one than Peggy," Moreover, Maurice, who is the divorced husband of Florence Walton, his former dancing partner, flatly denies all allegations by Joyce. Said he:

"I danced with Peggy in London and Deauville but I never met her outside the ballroom. In fact once in Deauville I intervened in favor of Joyce when Peggy insisted on dancing with a man whom Joyce disliked. Really I can't understand why he should name me in his divorce suit."

PRESIDENT TO TOSS THE FIRST BALL

(By International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 14.—President Harding and the weatherman combined today to give the Washington Senators an auspicious start in the American League fight, under the new leadership of George McBride.

The president will toss the first ball and the "weatherman" has contributed a fine spring day.

Vice-President Coolidge and other high government officials are to be the guests of Clark Griffith.

General Pershing will raise the flag over the American League park.

PLOT TO ASSASSINATE EX-EMPEROR CHARLES

(By International News Service)
PARIS, April 14.—A plot to assassinate ex-Emperor Charles of Austria has been discovered at Lucerne, where he again resides, according to a dispatch from the Swiss to the Petit Parisien.

The alleged conspiracy was revealed to the police by a private detective. Several foreigners who were equipped with passports, were arrested. The prisoners had grenades in their possession.

WITHDRAWAL OF AMERICAN ARMY

(By International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 14.—President Harding is requested to order the immediate withdrawal of the American army of occupation in Germany, by the terms of a resolution introduced in the house this afternoon by Representative Hamilton Fish, Jr., of New York.

LEGION BONUS BILL IS PASSED IN ILLINOIS

(By International News Service)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 14.—By unanimous vote, the house today passed the Legion bonus bill, giving fifty cents per day to ex-service men who served more than two months during the world war.
The bill calls for a bond issue of $55,000,000 to be approved by the voters at the November, 1922, election. It now goes to the senate.

EUROPEAN POLITICS INVADED BY JAPAN

(By International News Service)
PARIS, April 14.—Japan, it is reliably learned, has decided to assume a strong position in the Turkish settlement, marking her first important "invasion" of European politics.
Baron Uchida has left Marseilles for Constantinople, where he will represent Japan on the Straits commission. He is expected to stay in the Turkish capital as permanent ambassador to the porte.

RESOLUTION DECLARES END TO STATE OF WAR

(By International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 14.—Senator Philander C. Knox of Pennsylvania today introduced into the senate his resolution declaring an end to the state of war that has existed for four years between the United States and the former central powers.

THRONE OF KING REPORTED SHAKY

(By International News Service)
LONDON, April 14.—The Greek assembly today adopted a resolution declaring a state of siege in Athens, according to a dispatch from the Greek capital.

The internal situation in Greece has been increasingly critical ever since the crushing defeat of the Greek army by the Turks some ten days ago. King Constantine's throne has been reported to be again "shaky."

Fresh reserves have been called up and attempts are being made to rally the Hellenic people for another offensive against Mustapha Kemal's nationalist forces. Last reports of the military situation were extremely gloomy from the Greek standpoint. Constantine's army having been completely "rolled up" and thrown back upon the defenses near Broussa.

Ex-Premier Venizelos was said to be hastening to Athens to aid the government in the crisis.

BOUNDARY DISPUTE AT WHITE HEAT

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 14.—The relations between the United States and the republic of Panama were brought to the breaking point today when the Porras government of the little republic flatly refused to comply with this government's virtual demand that Panama accept the White award as a basis of settlement in her boundary dispute with Costa Rica.

The refusal of the Panama government to accede to this government's wishes in the matter was contained in a formal reply to Secretary Hughes' recent note, receipt of which was announced at the state department today.

OUIJA BOARD HAS NO "COME BACK"

(By International News Service)
JOLIET, Ill., April 14.—The ouija board can say anything it likes about you and you have no legal "come back."

This in effect is a decision of Judge De Selm in the circuit court here, who ruled that the ouija board has no standing in law.

Mrs. Frank Walters sued Mrs. Albert Yost for $10,000, claiming that Mrs. Yost's ouija had slandered her by accusing her of robbing the Yost pantry of various edibles. Judge De Selm ruled that Mrs. Yost could not be held responsible for what her ouija said.

MAIL ROBBERS HOLD UP STATION AGENT

(By International News Service)
INDEPENDENCE, Ia., April 14.—Two mail robbers are believed to have obtained a considerable sum of money today when they robbed C. R. Dodge, station agent for the Illinois Central railroad here. The bandits fired one shot at Dodge when he did not throw up his hands quick enough to suit them, seized a pouch containing registered mail and escaped in an automobile. The mail was consigned from Omaha to Independence and is believed to have contained bank remittances.

WEATHER IS GOOD; BALL SEASON OPENS

(By International News Service)
CINCINNATI, O., April 14.—All is set for the opening of the National League baseball game here between the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Cincinnati Reds. The weather is delightful, players full of pep and confidence and an immense crowd of fans will witness hostilities.

All reserved seats have been sold and more than 25,000 people are expected to attend the games which will be called at 2:30 p. m.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL AND NEW EDUCATION

Dr. C. A. Cole, pastor of the First Christian church of Glendale, is much in demand as a speaker. He has recently conducted a two weeks' evangelistic campaign at the University Christian church in Los Angeles and is on the program of the first annual adult Bible class conference at both today's and tomorrow's sessions.

Dr. Cole spoke this afternoon at a section meeting whose general subject is "Bible Class Federation"; his topic was "What Happens When Christian Forces Federate."

At a meeting of the women's department tomorrow morning, which will be attended by mothers, teachers and class officers, Dr. Cole will give an address on "The Sunday School and the New Education"; and at the women's banquet at the First Christian church in Los Angeles tomorrow evening, Dr. Cole will be one of the after-dinner speakers. The subject assigned him for the occasion is "A Definite Program for Service in Every Adult Bible Class."

John Camphouse, also of Glendale, presided over the section devoted to work of teachers and officers of adult classes this afternoon.

SENIORS ENJOY THEIR PICNIC

Seniors of Glendale high who went to Brookside park, Wednesday afternoon for their annual picnic, are enthusiastic over the good time enjoyed there in spite of the cool wind which caused shivers to play up and down the spines of those who were not exercising. To overcome this drawback every exercised, many of the students taking to the water as soon as they arrived. Others took part in an indoor baseball game. There were several games of "Duck on the Rock" and other pleasurable activities not to speak of trips in the "Merry Go Round," and use of the slides which were enjoyed with as much zest as though the patrons had been the age of those for whom they had been especially provided "under 12." Members of the faculty who were guests of honor and who accepted to the number of 25, arrived about 4:30 and supper was served at 5:30. The party which included about 126 seniors, returning to Glendale somewhere around 8 p. m.

MAYFLOWER AT HARDING'S DISPOSAL

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Completely restored from the effects of a disastrous fire which damaged it many thousands of dollars several months ago, the famous presidential yacht Mayflower is now ready for commission and at the disposal of its new skipper, President Warren G. Harding.

Commander Holmes, U. S. N., navigator of the craft, called at the executive offices recently and reported that the last coat of paint had been applied to the sides of the craft and that he was now ready to take the President and Mrs. Harding on any water trip they would care to make. As both the President and Mrs. Harding are fond of yachting trips, it is not unlikely that they will use the Mayflower soon in week-end trips down the Potomac river to Old Point Comfort or other nearby resorts.

Commander Holmes is anxious to show the President his skill as a navigator for, though he has been in command of the Mayflower for more than a year he has never had a presidential passenger, former President Wilson's illness having prevented his use of the vessel during the last two years of his term of office.

CONSUMMATION OF BIG DEAL ON BRAND

Realty Firm Announces Sale of Baldwin Property to Local Capitalists

Messrs. Doner, Hemenway & Burn, realty operators at 110 South Brand, who have been negotiating the sale of property owned by Misses Ida and Isabel Baldwin at the southeast corner of Brand and Wilson avenue, report that the deal has been consummated. The property has a frontage of 200 feet on Brand and was sold for $45,000 to local capitalists, who plan to improve it in the near future, but have not decided on the character of the improvement. It is considered highly desirable as a hotel site and also for a store and office building.

MECHANISM TO READ THE MIND

(By International News Service) DENVER, April 14.—Dr. H. P. von David, noted psychologist, who made known in 1915 that he was developing a system for the "mechanicalization of the mind," has established a laboratory in this city and will continue experiments in an effort to perfect the mechanism, that will read the human mind.

Dr. von David's theory is based on the fact that the emotions experienced in the human mind give varying reactions when an electrical current is passed through the body, and he expects to construct a machine that will read the mind of a child, determine its latent possibilities, and establish a vocation most favorable to the individual's capacity.

Dr. von David has been connected with psychic and psychological research in practically all the large laboratories in the United States and Europe. He was an associate of Dr. Hugo Munsterberg, well-known Harvard psychologist, and has won a high place in the scientific world.

Dr. von David abandoned his psychological analysis research shortly after the first announcement of his invention, in 1915, to take up Red Cross work in the European war zone. Because of ill health following the cessation of hostilities, he has been in seclusion until recently, when he came to Denver to resume experimental investigations on the invention that promises to revolutionize the study of psychology.

Based on Mental Reaction The principle underlying the "character reading" machine, as explained by Dr. von David, is that a person's mind will react by deflections to certain suggestive key words or pictures, indicative of various vocations.

By curved lines such as are made on a seismograph or recording thermometer, the person's responses to the vocational suggestions form a permanent record.

"Every human brain from its earliest period," Dr. von David said, "holds an inherent, dominant impulse or capacity which, if recognized early and properly developed, leaves no doubt as to the character of that person's true vocation in life, and each brain, together with its associated organs, nerves, muscles and body processes, generates and can transmit a force whereby it can be induced unconsciously and unequivocally to register the nature of that special individual gift."

The Moving Pencil Writes Describing the working of the machine Dr. von David said:

"The person upon whom the test is being made is seated at a table on which are two small glasses of mercury and a salt solution, which are connected by wires to an apparatus in another room. The index and middle fingers of the subject's right hand are placed in the glasses. The table is in a closed-off portion of the room and no other objects are visible to the subject, except a sheet on which words or pictures may be flashed. The impulses or changes caused by the projection of various words and pictures are conducted through the wires from the mercury contact glasses, through an apparatus in an adjoining room, to a recording device in a third room which has been darkened. The record thus made is superimposed on the curves of norms, and a new curve plotted as a result."

The recording device, the psychologist explained, is a galvanometer with an oscillograph connection. A moving pencil or reflected light writes on sensitized film the record of the subject's reflexes.

Children Best Subjects

Dr. von David said he had worked ten years on the machine and had proved its practicability under many conditions. The true bent of the child's mind, he said, had been correctly revealed in scores of cases.

SEVERAL CHICKEN RANCHES SOLD

Among the important sales recently made by the firm of Haiper & Craig, was an exceptionally well-equipped five-acre chicken ranch on Sherman way, between Van Nuys and Lancaster. It was bought by a Los Angeles stock and bond firm for a consideration of $30,000.

Mrs. Maud E. Hutchison of Bangor, Me., has recently purchased from this firm a five-acre tract near Burbank, a property valuable as either an industrial site or a chicken ranch.

BACHELOR BISHOP SCATHED BY WOMAN

(By International News Service) LONDON, April 14.—That men should be manly and women womanly was the statement made by Dr. Marie Stopes in a lecture which she delivered at a meeting of the women's freedom league.

"A manly man and a woman strongly sexed is the type of man and woman I would aim at," said the speaker.

She then objected to the type of man which is, apparently, the ideal of the churches, saying:

"The ideal of the churches is a weak, undersized, over-neurotic, over-intellectual and ascetic person."

"We have been dominated too long by this pseudo-Christianity of the churches, which is really pagan. No women must put it quietly aside."

"Whom did the bishops at the Lambeth conference put in the chair to deal with the problems of married life? The unmarried ascetic Bishop of London."

"What an impertinence to elect a man of that character to deal with the problems of the sexes."

Outlook of Unwanted Child

"I believe that there is a bridge between the rather wretched present and a future in which a majority of the human race will be really healthy and happy," continued the speaker, touching on the question of birth control. "This bridge will be the tremendous power of joyous and voluntary motherhoods. What sort of an outlook for life has the child born to a woman who does not want it?"

"There is also a clique of women who imagine that the female sex is immensely superior to the male and that the tendency of the future would be a modification of the male sex."

That may be a happy ideal for angels.

"There is much talk about the danger of the superfluous woman. That is absurd. For every woman who is rearing children there must be at least two to help her—if not directly then indirectly through teachers, nurses and so on."

"No woman under 25 years of age," Dr. Stopes concludes, "ought to bear children. Women under that age could act as nurses or keep a crèche. Women over the child-bearing age could also help in many ways."

SECRETARIES FROM BROWN UNIVERSITY

(By International News Service)

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 14.—With the appointment of Charles E. Hughes, a graduate of the class of 1881, Brown University now has the distinction of having four graduates who became secretaries of state. Only two colleges, Harvard and Princeton, have equalled this record. Brown's per capita production for the state portfolio is unique—roughly, one secretary of state for every 2000 graduates.

Evidently young men who have definitely given up the idea of being president of the United States and who would be satisfied to be secretary of state, should prepare at one of the five following colleges, which are given here with their individual records:

Brown—William L. Marcy, 1853; Richard Olney, 1895; John Hay, 1898, 1901; Charles E. Hughes, 1921. Harvard—Thomas Pickering, 1795, 1797; John Quincy Adams, 1817; Edward Everett, 1852; Robert Bacon, 1909. Princeton—James Madison, 1801; Robert Smith, 1809; Edward Livingston, 1831; John Forsyth, 1834, 1837. Yale—John C. Calhoun, 1844; John M. Clayton, 1849; William M. Evarts, 1877. William and Mary—Thomas Jefferson, 1879; Edmund Randolph, 1794, and James Monroe, 1811.

Sixteen colleges have produced one secretary of state each. Eight secretaries of state, as far as can be determined, never went to college. Among them were John Marshall, Henry Clay and Martin Van Buren.

BABE RUTH OUT TO MAKE NEW RECORD

(By International News Service) NEW YORK, April 14.—Seventy-five homers in 1921!

Babe Ruth started his quest for the new record here yesterday when the Yankees and Philadelphia Athletics opened the local baseball season at the Polo Grounds.

Thousands of New Yorkers vied with each other to get into the big stadium to see the Yanks and the big "Bambino" swing into action. Ruth is the greatest drawing card in baseball and though he found it difficult to take off poundage accumulated during the winter and entered today's game a trifle over weight, his attack on his own record of 54 home runs made last year will be watched with the keenest interest.

Many a hat has been wagered along Broadway on the outcome of Ruth's attempt to better his record. He modestly admitted when he returned from Cuba last winter that "he would like to make it 75 this year." His chances of reaching that goal are doubtful, according to the "experts," but that he will pass his 1920 mark is the popular belief.

While not starting his home run string here yesterday, he proved beyond doubt that his "batting eye" remains as keen as ever, making five hits. The entire Yankee team displayed the same aggressiveness that characterized their playing last year.

SEAPLANES TO BE USED BY BRITISH

(By International News Service) LONDON, April 14.—Two seaplanes are shortly leaving England to search for oil in South America.

The British Controlled Oil Fields Company is sending two flying boats to survey the delta of the Orinoco river. The company is enthusiastic over the prospects of the venture.

"Accompanying the seaplanes," said Mr. Pinjers, the managing director of the company, "will be the biggest men in the scientific world whom we can obtain and the best photographers. Photograph will be all-important, for oil lands show a partly destroyed vegetation in parched ground, and the camera will reveal the areas which have this distinctive feature, the tributaries which run into the parent spring, and the forest roads and approaches which will be of use to us."

G. B. Reynolds, who established the Anglo-Persian oil fields, will be head of the expedition.

"SAFETY FIRST" PROVES FAULTY

(By International News Service) MARTINS FERRY, O., April 14.—A local resident had several cases of bonded whiskey in his home.

When he learned the police were searching for booze in neighboring houses, he moved his cases into an alley beside his residence.

After the police had searched his premises, finding nothing, he started for the alley, intent upon restoring the cases to their places in his cellar. But the booze was gone.

Several persons had noted his actions and removed the cases while owner and police were in the house.

"THE CONCERT" WITH LEWIS STONE AS STAR

At the Palace Grand today the feature picture is "The Concert," with Lewis Stone as the star. It is said to be a great play full of action, color and comedy. It is shown today only, and Glendale admirers of Lewis Stone will not doubt pack the house.

A two-part Aubrey comedy, "Mysterious Stranger," is also seen at the Palace Grand today only. Tomorrow's offering is a double comedy bill; Mabel Normand in "What Happened to Rosa" and Larry Semon in his latest comedy feature "The Hick."

PURSUING FLEEING BOY WHO TURNS OUT GIRL

(By International News Service) BOSTON, April 14.—Pursuing a "youth" attired in khaki breeches, sweater and cap and smoking a cigarette, who aroused his suspicions, Patrolman Fitzpatrick, of the Somerville police, was startled when the cap fell off and a mass of long blond hair fell about the supposed youth's shoulders.

Then the disguise was explained. The "boy" proved to be 17-year-old Virginia Girard, on parole from one of the state industrial institutions.

The "Death Trap" is the name given to Abbott Pass, above the famous Lake Louise in the Canadian Rockies.

The English mile is longer than a kilometer, being equal to 1609 kilometers.

LIEURANCE'S LITTLE SYMPHONY COMING

Ellison-White Chautauqua Presents Organization Created and Coached by the Noted American Composer, Thurlow Lieurance

Through special arrangement with Thurlow Lieurance, the noted American composer, Ellison-White announces Lieurance's Little Symphony as a feature musical attraction for the last day of the Chautauqua. Mr. Lieurance has created and coached this organization and has personally arranged the complete program. He does not appear personally with the company, but is closely in touch with it at all times and insists on the same high standard of musicianship that has characterized his own work during the past fifteen years. Lieurance's Little Symphony is an all-string combination playing sketches from a representative number of Symphonies, together with a wide repertoire of the best in the world of music.

WORK OF COMMERCE CHAMBER GROUPS

The chamber of commerce committee on permanent building, of which J. G. Huntley is chairman, met Wednesday evening at chamber headquarters and organized a Citizens' Building Company with a capitalization of $100,000, divided into 50,000 of common stock and 50,000 of preferred stock.

The plan adopted was the sale of $25,000 of the preferred stock with a guarantee of 8 per cent interest. Owen Emery was instructed to draw up incorporation papers and Mr. Huntley to close up the option for the lot on the east side of Brand between Broadway and Harvard. The stock will be offered to members of the chamber of commerce and others desiring to purchase it. Roy Kent was instructed to have building plans and specifications prepared and it is expected that the project will be pushed rapidly as no delays in securing the necessary funds are anticipated. The structure will be known as the Chamber of Commerce building and it will probably make provision for stores and offices, banquet room, etc., as described in the report published in the Glendale Daily Press, Wednesday.

A meeting of members interested in the formation of a Glendale Credit Association was held Wednesday evening at the place of business of Neale & Gregg. Present besides the two merchants named were William Moore, Archie Parker, H. W. Butts, Mr. Vanderwood of the Fox-Woodson Company and the credit men of Ham burgers and Barker Brothers of Los Angeles.

No organization was perfected, but the project was discussed with every man present in favor of it. A sub-committee was named to prepare a definite proposition which can be put before the business and professional men of the city.

As a practical means of focusing the sentiment in Glendale relative to an independent postoffice, return postal cards are being dispatched to the business and professional men of the city asking them to indicate whether they do or do not want such an office in this city.

Secretary Rhoades of the chamber of commerce is sending out to members membership cards running to January 1, 1922, when the official new year will begin. He is asking each member to induce another to enroll in the chamber, and will doubtless secure many members as a result of the request.

ELBERT BUCK DIES

The passing of Elbert Buck at his home, 159 Rowland street, Eagle Rock, Wednesday, at the age of 71, removes a patriarch who had endeared himself to many in the city where he has lived for the past nine years. A son and daughter and several grandchildren survive him. Funeral services, of which the Seavern Company will have charge, will be held Saturday at 2 p. m., at the Little Church of the Flowers in Forest Lawn Memorial park.

DISPUTE OVER THE ISLE OF YAP

BY HARRY L. ROGERS

L. N. S. Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Support of the position of the United States in the dispute over the island of Yap is promised by France in a note made public by the state department today.

The French note, which is in reply to Secretary Hughes' communication of April 4, asserts that no decision on Yap can be reached until after the meeting of the allied supreme council, but Premier Briand promises to "broach examination thereof with the greatest desire to find a solution which will give every satisfaction to the United States."

CAPT. T. D. WATSON BUSINESS MANAGER

Consonant with its policy of securing the best talent obtainable to serve the city of Glendale with the best newspaper possible, the management of the Glendale Publishing and Printing Company has secured the services of Captain Thomas D. Watson, as business manager of the Glendale Daily Press.

Captain Watson assumes his duties at once. He is a capable business man and the general manager of the Glendale Publishing and Printing Company considers him an acquisition to the staff of the Daily Press. With a competent force in every department of the paper, with the esprit de corps natural to a well-organized, capable and intelligent body of workers and with the new press which will be installed in a week or so, the management of the Daily Press has every expectation of giving the people of Glendale and indeed the entire San Fernando valley, a newspaper that will be not only a credit to this section, but also a distinctly valuable asset to its development.

VARIED PROGRAM AT READING CIRCLE

As usual the meeting of the Mutual Benefit Reading circle which took place Wednesday at the city library was of interest and greatly enjoyed by the 45 members present.

Mrs. R. K. Burr reviewed a portion of Lee's "Play in Education," which was followed by a reading by Mrs. Crawford from "The Prestons Growing Up." Mrs. Burr also gave an excellent account of a social service convention held at Hotel Alexandria which she attended Friday. Mrs. H. V. Henry gave the reading from the new book the Circle is studying, "Biography of a Baby," by Millicent W. Shen.

Electricity, matches and defective chimneys are responsible for the majority of fires.

The public is not so forgetful that there will be any failure to offer Bergdoll a warm welcome.

EFFORT TO SPLIT TRIPLE ALLIANCE

(By International News Service)

LONDON, April 14.—An attempt by Premier Lloyd George to split the triple alliance and avert the general strike announced for 10 o'clock tomorrow night, broke down this afternoon and all hope of settlement seems shattered.

Having exhausted all other means, the premier tried, at a conference with the spokesmen of the railmen and transport workers, to turn them against the miners. He failed, completely.

As the conferees left No. 10 Downing street, where they had deliberated three hours, J. H. Thomas, chief power in the triple alliance, was asked:

"Is there any hope for a settlement?"

"I see nothing at all," he replied, gravely shaking his head.

BOOTHBYS GIVE INFORMAL DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Boothby were host and hostess at a small, informal dinner at their charming home at 348 West Lexington avenue, Wednesday evening. A big bowl of red roses centered the table at which places were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fowler of Chicago, who were guests of honor and who are spending the winter in a home they have purchased in La Crescenta; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gorman of Arcadia, who are special friends of the Fowlers; Mr. and Mrs. George Platt, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Torrey, and the host and hostess. Later they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wohlbach, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Ely and Mr. and Mrs. Horace Keeler, the evening being devoted to dancing.

KEEPING METALS SPOTLESS

Polish for Brass and Copper
One-half cupful whitening; 4 ounces or 1-2 cupful, denatured alcohol; 2 ounces or 1-4 cupful, dilute oxalic acid and 1 pint kerosene.

When diluting, add the acid to the water very slowly and carefully. Put the whitening in a bottle, add the alcohol and the remaining ingredients in the order named. Shake well before using.

This polish is given through the courtesy of Miss L. Ray Balderston, department of household administration, Teachers' College.

Copper is cleaned like brass.

Iron
Iron rusts readily when moisture is present. Kerosene will remove rust and grease. Boiling in a strong solution of washing-soda will also clean thoroughly and remove grease. For general cleaning, wash with hot water and soap; rinse and dry immediately. Use an abrasive if necessary.

Do not put away iron utensils for any length of time unless coated with an unsalted fat, to prevent rusting.

Aluminum
Any utensil made of this metal should be washed in hot water and a neutral soap. Boiling with any of the acid foods mentioned above will often clean aluminum. Whitening moistened with a dilute acid (such as oxalic or denatured alcohol and steel wool are good cleaning agents. Avoid cleaning aluminum with washing-soda as alkalis darken this metal.

ARMED GUARDS PATROL STREETS

(By International News Service)

CHICAGO, April 14.—Armed guards are patrolling the streets in the vicinity of the Cook county jail as the result of the discovery of a plot to bomb the jail with nitroglycerin. Special watch is being kept within the jail where four men were placed in death cells today to await execution tomorrow morning.

Warned that an attempt would be made to release one of the men awaiting hanging, jail officials searched the cells in "murderers row," where the condemned men were confined and found a quantity of nitroglycerin. Precautions were taken immediately to prevent any attempt at jail delivery. Sam Cardinella, alleged leader of a gang of bandits, is to be hanged for the murder of Thomas Bowman, a grocer. Police believe the frustrated plot was conceived in the hope of affecting his release. Cardinella's friends, it is declared, have boasted that he would never be hanged.

Others to be hanged tomorrow are Sam Ferrara, Antonio Lopez and Joe Costanzo. Ferrara and Cardinella will be hanged at 9 o'clock and Lopez and Costanzo an hour later. Three men are in death cells here and will be hanged on Monday.

MRS. W. W. WORLEY PAINFULLY BURNED

Mrs. W. W. Worley of 341 North Jackson street, who was painfully burned last Tuesday morning when her clothing caught fire from a gas heater, is recovering as rapidly as could be expected.

Mrs. Worley suffered burns about the body and on one hand; while she is not now in pain, her injuries will keep her in bed for some time. She had the presence of mind to throw herself down on a large rug and roll up in it. She was assisted by her son Charles, who then summoned help for her. While Mrs. Worley was painfully injured, she says she is thankful to escape without more serious consequences.

MORE ENTHUSIASTS LOCATE IN GLENDALE

Mr. and Mrs. George Hyne of Chicago have been the houseguests of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dobrick of 321 Ethel street for the past two months. They are so delighted with Glendale that they have decided to buy a home here and make this their permanent residence. Mr. Hyne is a painter and will probably go into that business here; he is also a rabbit fancier and intends to spend much of his spare time on this hobby.

Mr. and Mrs. Dobrick are also new Glendale residents; they came here from Cincinnati and bought the home at 321 Ethel street quite recently.

Lake Superior is 400 miles long, 160 wide at its greatest breadth with an area of 32,000 square miles.

FINAL EVENTS IN SCHOOL CARNIVAL

Cerritos Wins Big Banner and Pennant Ribbons Are Given to Winners

A relay race in which the excitement of spectators mounted high and boys and girls cheered their champions to victory, jumping up and down and yelling to lung capacity, brought the track meet carnival at the intermediate to an interesting close Wednesday afternoon.

The school score stood:
Cerritos avenue school 34½ points
Columbus avenue school 27½ points
Pacific avenue school 16½ points
Doran street school 16, Broadway school 13 points, Central avenue school 6½ points, Colorado school 6 points.

This score gave the big banner to Cerritos avenue and also the pennant for Unlimited division. Pennants were distributed as follows:

For Midget Class—Pacific avenue first; Cerritos, Colorado and Columbus to draw for second place.

For Unlimited Class—Cerritos, first; pennant; Columbus, second; Doran, third.

For Special Class—Columbus, first; pennant; Broadway, second.

Mr. White Gives Ribbons
Ribbons were bestowed upon individual victors by Superintendent Richardson D. White who expressed his pleasure and pride in the showing made by the schools in this athletic carnival. Said he:

"I am proud of the records made here and proud of the individuals who won these various events and I am equally proud of those who took part and who didn't win. You know the thing is the game, to play the game and play it right and play it for all you are worth. If you do that you cannot lose. You have formed the habit of doing your best. Win if you can, but if you fail to get the ribbon and have done your best, you have nothing to be ashamed of. If any boy has not done his best, then that boy has failed, and ought to feel badly. If he has done his best to win and failed, he should still be proud and make up his mind to go after the prizes harder and harder until he does win."

Final Scores

Soccer Kick, Special—Hiland Fanse (Columbus), first, with kick of 92 feet 8 inches; Charles Hilton (Columbus), second; Ernest Bowen (Columbus), third; Leslie Rice (Broadway), fourth.
50-Yard Dash, Unlimited—Allen-Lovell (Columbus), first; Tom Muff (Doran), second; Charles Steelman (Cerritos) third; Brion Sawtelle (Cerritos), fourth.

Chinning, Unlimited—Maurice Bean (Doran), first with 22; William Newby (Central), second; Eugene Kellogg (Pacific), third; Charles Heustis (Central), fourth.

Running Broad Jump, Unlimited—Charles Steelman (Cerritos), first with jump of 14 feet 1½ inches; Allen Lovell (Columbus), second; Brion Sawtelle (Cerritos), third; Charles Hart (Colorado), fourth.

Baseball Throw for Distance—Raymond Moniot (Cerritos), first with throw of 136 feet 8 inches; Edwin Bentley (West Glendale), second; Ralph Gilman (Pacific), third; Thomas Perry (Cerritos), fourth.

Relay Race—Won by Broadway's team composed of Frank Wycoff, Harry Liser, Frank Johnson and Fred Fromm.

VOLSTEAD ACT NOT TO AFFECT FOREIGN SHIPS

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Foreign ships, with cargoes of liquor bound for foreign ports, but stopping in American harbors, will not be affected by regulations being drawn by the treasury department in accordance with the ruling of the department of justice that foreign liquors in transit in the United States are in violation of the Volstead act, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon said today. The secretary said, however, that there would be strict enforcement of the law against transshipment of foreign liquors through the United States.

quired to carry on this school work." Mr. White then read the report of the advisory committee as submitted by Oliver Clark, to the mass meeting last week, recommending a bond issue of $215,000 to provide funds for the building of another intermediate school and for the enlargement of the grounds and buildings of grammar schools. He stated that the deputy county auditor had said he thought the bonding capacity of the district was but $195,000, but County Superintendent Keppel thought that the auditor was mistaken. The exact figures would be known very soon, Mr. White said.

"I have heard two objections to this proposition," said Mr. White. "One is that it is too much money; the other that we ought to use the present plant of the high school since the voters have decided to move it into a new site. In reply to the first objection, I would say whether or not it is too much money, it will be certain not to be too much room. With a smaller expenditure we might pull through next year but we would certainly need more room the year following."

High School for $195,000

"About the proposal to buy the high school, some one suggested that we could perhaps purchase it for $195,000, but officers of the school when consulted said they thought the plant would have to bring far more than that to finance the erection of new school buildings. But suppose we assume it could be bought for $195,000, that would be almost our full bonding capacity. It would provide for the new intermediate but there would be nothing left for enlargements to relieve the grammar schools. The present high school buildings, including the new class rooms, will accommodate 800 students, it is said. The enrollment in the intermediate school is now about 520. The seventh and eighth grades of Cerritos would make about 70 more and if you were to add the ninth grade now in the high school and thus make a junior high, the capacity of the school would be taxed at the start."

Mr. White pointed out that no relief could come from this source in any event under two years as it would take that amount of time to pass a bond issue for high school purposes, agree upon a site, and erect the buildings. Said he:

"The building program that this committee proposes is not going to take care of us for more than two years at the outside, so why worry about having too much room?"

On motion of Mrs. H. V. Brown the federation board then voted to indorse the report and do all in its power to put through the recommendations of the advisory committee.

Mention was made of the fact that the annual spring festival to raise funds for the federation will take place May 20 on the grounds of Mrs. John Robert White, the president; also that at the next regular meeting in May, officers will submit reports for the year and new officers will be elected.

On the suggestion of the president, the board voted that instead of the annual picnic with which the year ordinarily closes, to have a conference at the First Methodist church and a luncheon, to be served by the women of that church.
